

Business Process Management Solutions

ACCELERATING EFFICIENCY

Start Strong, Finish Fast

Change is hard. Challenges with new technology, complex regulatory demands and performance measurement can stall even the most critical initiatives.

How can you break through your bottlenecks to build and sustain the best path forward? That's where Xcelerate's Business Process Management (BPM) team can help.

Our ability to accelerate business results begins with our BPM solutions. Xcelerate's BPM team does the heavy lifting to inject new efficiencies into your operations. Each unique barrier to an organization's success requires a unique solution. We will assess your environment and create responsive, agile, flexible, and customized solutions to unlock your potential. At every step, we strive for simplicity and apply creativity to boost your momentum and cut costs—while keeping an eye fixed on best end-state scenarios.

Are you an Agency:

- Struggling to streamline business processes and lower costs?
- Running into barriers that impede quick response to changing regulatory demands?
- Having problems optimizing the integration of technology and processes?
- Encountering hurdles to improving your internal and external interactions?

If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, you could benefit from Xcelerate's BPM Solutions. Contact us to learn more and arrange an Xceleration Assessment™ to move your organization forward.

Keep Your Mission Moving Forward

We are driven to eliminate obstacles that keep our clients from accelerating towards optimal results. Xcelerate creates flexible and customized solutions that get measurable results.

Beyond our immediate task, we identify any gaps or challenges with the new change program that could dramatically affect your organization. Above all, we remain relentless in pursuing solutions that align with your core objectives and your culture.

"Xcelerate is the best continuous process improvement contractor with whom I've worked in over 20 years in the private sector management practice and 5 years of Federal Civil Service."

-Branch Chief, Department of Homeland Security

Leadership Throughout the Lifecycle

Our diverse team of consultants, specialists and technologists improve workflows by drawing from a suite of proven tools and tactics. We optimize efficiency and performance across organizations through process redesign, organizational transformation, and efficient use of enabling technology. We use proven, industry best practices including Lean, Six Sigma, and Capability Maturity Model Integration (CMMI®) to accelerate your results.

After examining your strategy drivers and current value chains, we identify gaps and cross-functional breakdown points that lead us to feasible solutions. To break through bottlenecks and help define and manage risk, we execute end-to-end process visioning and design, which addresses process controls, integration points, and standardization needs. We will empower your teams to realize new levels of efficiency using Lean and Six Sigma methodologies, rapid improvement events, and Kaizen workshops.

TSA – Lean Six Sigma (LSS) Training and Consulting Services

Xcelerate worked with key TSA leadership to stand up a fully operational LSS program office. We led and assisted with conducting organizational analyses to target process improvements, and then executed focused strategic, operational, and tactical action plans. We also provided Green Belt, Black Belt, Master Black Belt, and Champion training, mentoring, and enterprise project execution support. By providing rapid-response business process re-engineering services and expertise, we were able to help the TSA address top agency priorities and create a culture of continuous process improvement.

National Guard – Lean Six Sigma (LSS) Initiative

Xcelerate facilitated strategic project alignment working sessions between stakeholders of Florida's National Guard in order to define strategic goals and develop metrics for program validation. By creating metrics aligned with their goals, we were able to help the NGB determine the viability of a project in addition to its potential return on investment (ROI). These metrics allowed the NGB to determine each project's impact and true value to the Bureau's mission. This critical factor helped Florida's senior leadership team and The Adjutant General (TAG) to continually refine the program within the bounds of the National Guard, Army, and Air Force compliance requirements.

Director of Administration & Management - CAF Consolidation Effort

The Xcelerate Team supported the building of a consolidated business process for the entire DoD adjudication community. Xcelerate helped determine the core business needs for the seven dispersant adjudication communities and the unique requirements for all user groups. By conducting a series of working group sessions we were able to build a unified process model and business use cases. Through the implementation of best practices and intelligent design the team was able to create a roadmap that will achieve greater efficiencies while offering new and enhanced functionality.
